LaMonte Young - Composition #3 1960

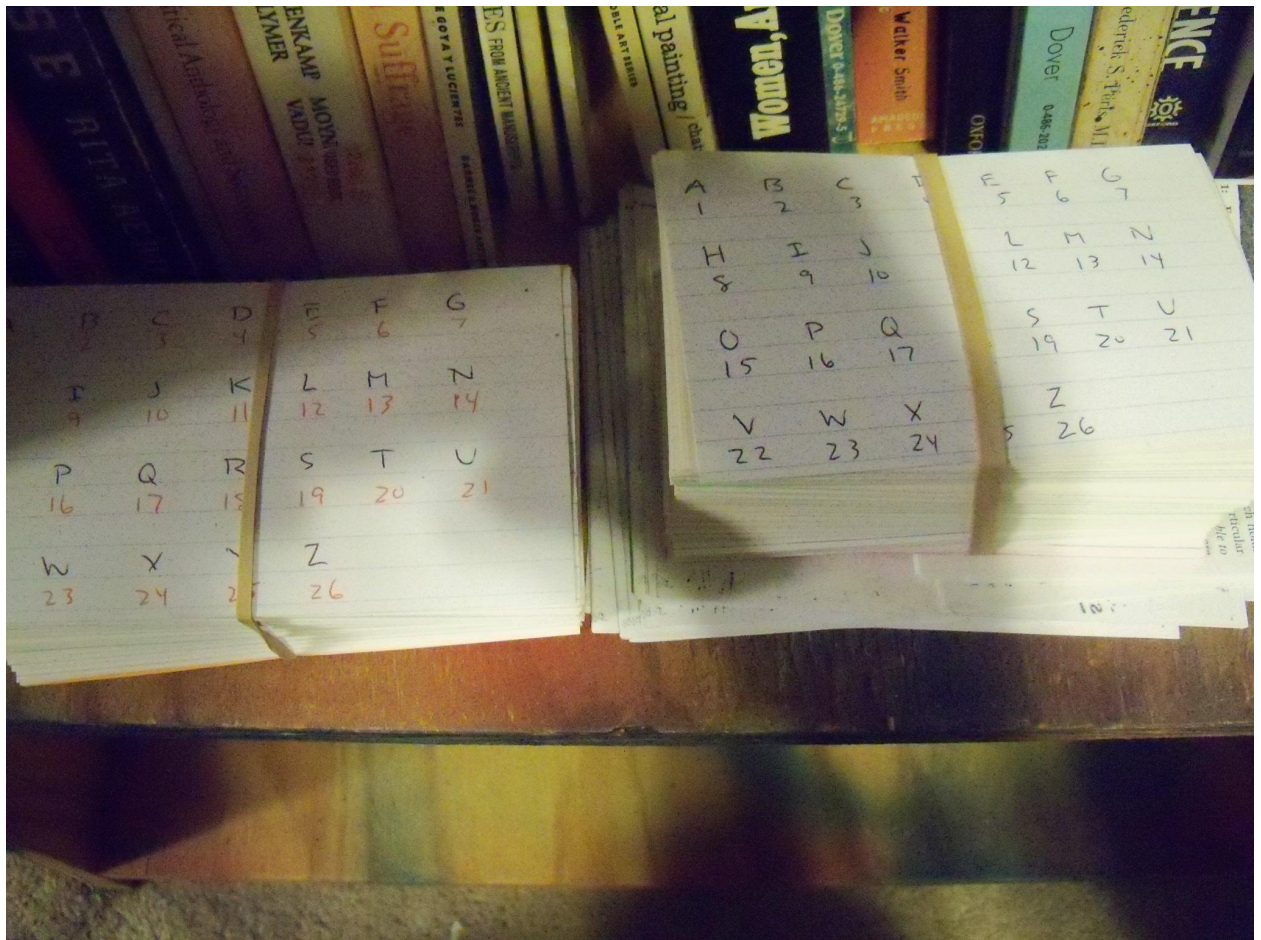

Announce to the audience when the piece will begin and end if there is a limit on duration.
It may be of any duration.

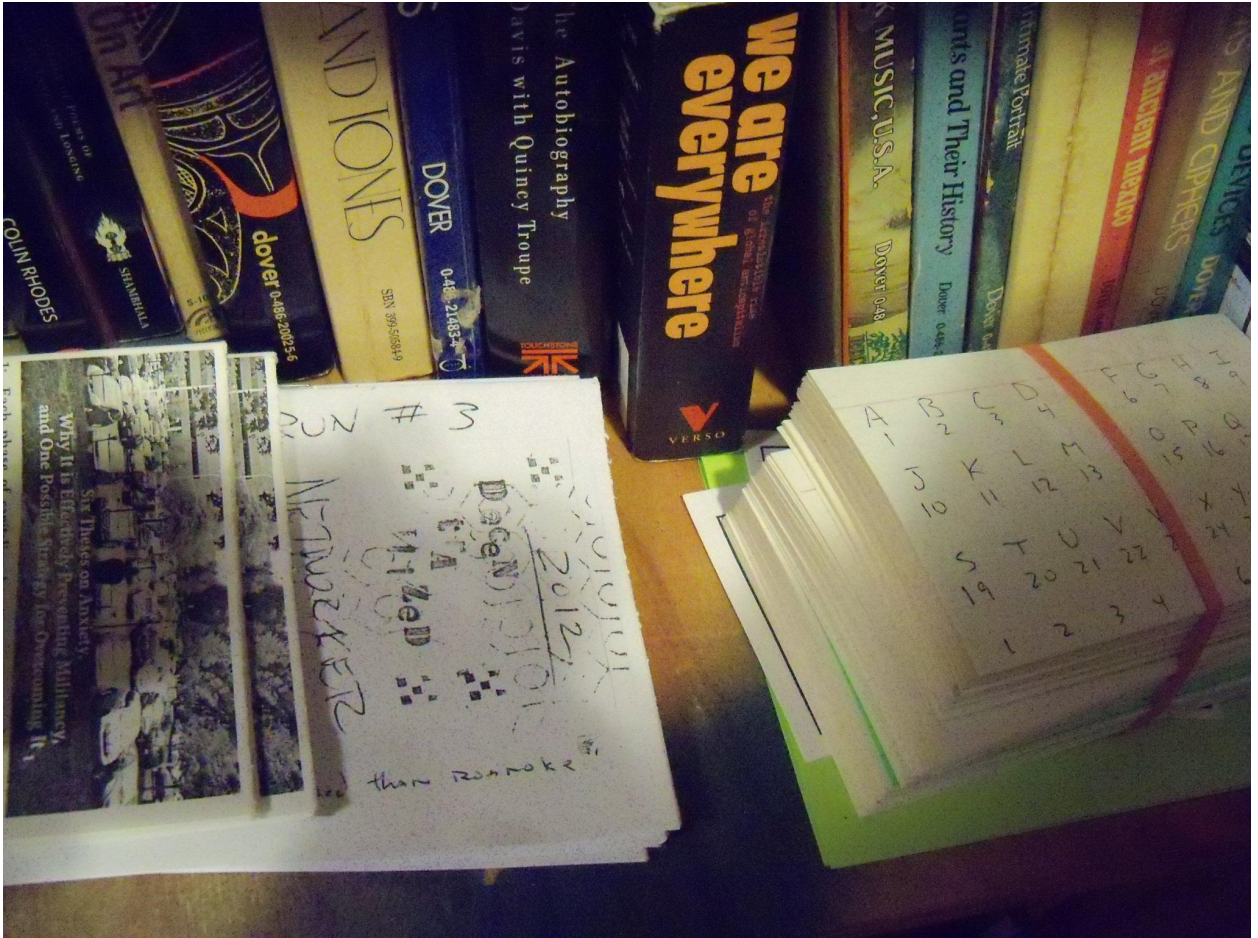

Then announce that everyone may do whatever he wishes for the duration of the composition.

A collage artwork featuring a spiral-bound notebook. The notebook's cover is a poster with the word "FLUXUS" in large, bold, black letters. Below the title is a line drawing of a piano. To the left of the piano, there is a vertical column of small, black, rectangular marks. Below the piano, there is a list of events: "Friday : Short Score", "Saturday : Marginal Art", "Saturday : Absurdist Car", and "Saturday : Fluxmazz, MC". The notebook is surrounded by various cutouts and objects. A parrot is visible on the left side, and a small, colorful, abstract object is in the center. The background is a mix of yellow, green, and blue colors, with some text like "Roanoke," and "PARIS" visible. The overall style is a mix of pop art and collage.
